Headline:
Sunshine and showers today, then turning milder and wetter tomorrow.

Today:
Sunny spells and scattered showers for most, these heaviest and most frequent in northern and western parts of the region, and wintry over the hills at first. A cold breeze. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
A few showers continuing this evening, particularly across Shropshire and Staffordshire. Becoming generally dry overnight with clear spells, and a patchy frost developing. Turning cloudier and less cold by dawn. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
Some brightness first thing in the east, otherwise cloudy but dry during the morning. Periods of rain arriving in the west by noon, spreading east through the afternoon. Becoming milder. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining largely unsettled and cloudy with rain at times. Strong winds are also likely at times but staying on the mild side.
